FRANCE 'READY FOR WAR,' MAY BOLT LEAGUE

Merriam's Shift Puts G.O.P. Here 'Up in Air'

REPUBLICANS CONFER ON DELEGATE

Edwards, First Named, Against Instructed Convention Slate

Orange county Republican leaders were somewhat up in the air today over this county's delegate to the national convention, as a result of Governor Merriam's withdrawal from the presidential race. They expected, however, that the matter would be settled in the immediate future.

Governor Merriam announced yesterday he has thrown his support to Governor Landon of Kansas, and the big question in the situation today was whether an instructed or an uninstructed delegation would go to the convention from California.

Senator N. T. Edwards of Orange recently was selected as this county's delegate, and he announced that he favored an uninstructed delegation.

Last night a meeting of Republican leaders was held at Fullerton to discuss the situation in view of Governor Merriam's retirement from the race. Today a committee composed of Howard Irwin of Fullerton, chairman of the Republican county central committee, and Mr. John Hall and W. C. May of Santa Ana, members of the committee, conferred on the subject with Judge R. Y. Williams, veteran Republican wheel horse.

As a result of this conference, it was expected that the matter of this county's delegate would be settled before the day is over, and it was predicted that Senator Edwards will be the delegate to the national convention.

Mr. Irwin said today that Republican leaders will continue to work for party unity, as they have in the past.

Urge Government Own Arms Plants

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—Government ownership and operation of munitions plants and naval shipbuilding yards will be recommended by the senate committee in one of four reports it is now preparing on its two-year inquiry into the causes of war.

A majority of the committee members said today they would vote for a recommendation to nationalize the industries which produce the primary supplies for the army and navy.

One for Ripley: Santa Anan Tours World on Drop of Ink

By ROCH BRADSHAW

Ripley may not have heard of him, but Santa Ana has a man who sails around the world on a drop of ink.

He isn't a sailor, but he has a friend in nearly every port. And, strange as it may seem, he hasn't ever seen them. Nevertheless, if Edwin F. Matthews, 317 South Flower street, should go to Buenos Aires he would be met at the dock by his good friend Ing. Lorenzo B. Lepori, civil engineer. At Sydney, Australia, he would be greeted by J. P. Whitworth, president of the Philatelic society of Sidney.

Mr. Matthews and his friends are more or less paws by remote control, but they're quite chummy and know all about each other just the same. That's where the SAN JOSE, March 11. (AP)—Broadcast of proceedings in Judge Percy O'Connor's traffic court each Monday over station KQW were ended today by the State Bar association.

Judge O'Connor protested the bar, declaring "the broadcast of traffic court proceedings was fulfilling its intention—to make the public traffic conscious, arouse interest in traffic safety and increase respect for the court."

The bar association held the broadcasts detracted from the dignity of the court.

2ND MURDER CONFESSED

Police Hunt For Body In S. F. Bay; Slayer Describes Killing

REDWOOD CITY, March 11. (AP)—Grappling hooks raked San Francisco bay's muddy bottom today for the rail-weighted, trussed body of a man Jerome von Braun Selz told Sheriff James J. McGrath he killed, because of threatened "blackmail."

Selz already has admitted slaying Mrs. Ada French Rice and police pressed investigation into violent deaths of two other persons, Mrs. Lena Coffin, 34, San Francisco, and James Anthony, Richmond, Calif., service station employee.

Threatened To Tell
Deputies under Sheriff McGrath set out early today to grapple for the body of a man Selz named "Barovich" or "Baronovich." He said he tossed the body into the bay from the San Mateo bridge last November. The killing climaxed a struggle for possession of a gun, he said, after "Barovich" threatened to tell authorities about Selz's slaying of Mrs. Rice.

Mrs. Coffin's mutilated body was found last April in a San Francisco waterfront hotel. She had been strangled to death, John Smeins, hotel clerk, said Selz was the man who registered with her and then disappeared a few hours later.

Confesses Slaying
Chief of Police L. E. Jones at Richmond asked Sheriff McGrath to question Selz about Anthony. Anthony's body lay across his bed, hacked with an axe and bound with wire. Chief Jones said Selz had worked in Richmond until shortly before Anthony's death.

After 72 hours' questioning, Selz yesterday admitted killing Mrs. Rice, divorced wife of a former Nome, Alaska, mayor. Selz insisted it was accidental; that he swung a poker wildly in a darkened room believing there were intruders present, and hit Mrs. Rice.

No. 73 'Ends It All' From Bridge

PASADENA, March 11. (AP)—Police recorded today the 73rd suicide from Pasadena's lofty Arroyo Seco bridge.

The broken body of Waldo P. Lopez, 40, of Los Angeles, was found under the concrete span last night. A note in his pocket read: "Everything is against me since last year; I can't take it any more."

41 ACRES OF BEAN RANCH HERE SOLD

Lagier Buys Property From Jamieson For $900 Per Acre

Sale of 41.6 acres of bean land on South Main street, announced today, stimulated increasing interest in real estate transactions here. The property was sold by A. H. Jamieson to Ernest Lagier, who conducts extensive bean growing operations on the Irvine ranch. The price was approximately $900 per acre.

The transaction, totaling about $37,500, was one of the largest in recent months. It was negotiated through C. M. McCain, Santa Ana real estate dealer.

Was Old Cubbon Tract
In the early days the property was known as the John Cubbon tract and later as the Dan Boyd tract. The late John Cubbon purchased the property in the late seventies or early eighties. He came to this country late in 1870 from San Diego with a team of horses. His original home was on the Isle of Man, from where he came to San Diego.

The house which stands on the property is approximately 60 years old. Lumber for it came in on flat boats by way of Newport harbor.

Sold to Selz
Mr. Cubbon later sold the property to Dan Boyd, a sailor. Dan Boyd's brother, Bob Boyd, still resides at Costa Mesa. The property, it is understood, had changed hands only twice since Mr. Cubbon purchased it, until the transfer announced today took place.

Mr. Cubbon and the late Robert McFadden, father of A. J. McFadden of this city, at one time ran a dairy where the old sugar factory building is located on South Main street. In the early days the surrounding country was a swamp. Mr. McFadden recalled today that when he was a boy he used to spear catfish and carp in ditches on either side of South Main street. Drainage ditches and pumping drained the swamps from the land.

Tax Plans Gagged By House Group

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—A house ways and means subcommittee today clamped a "gag" on any further disclosures of treasury data submitted as a basis for working out President Roosevelt's $792,000,000 tax programs.

Coincidentally, there were intimations the subcommittee was approaching an understanding that tax rates on undistributed corporate earnings will be adjusted to meet any loss of revenue occasioned by providing a "cushion" reserve for corporations and by exempting banks, insurance companies and fiduciary organizations from the projected corporate levy.

Some committee members intimated higher rates in higher brackets than those originally advanced by the treasury may be resorted to if needed to assure the yield of $620,000,000 of additional income which the administration is seeking from the corporate tax.

Italians Kill 50, Menace Americans

ADDIS ABABA, March 11. (AP)—Ethiopian reports said today 50 persons, including 30 women, were killed and 85 wounded in a bombing raid by 12 Italian planes yesterday on Debra Markos, capital of northwestern Gojjam province.

Government officials said they were awaiting anxiously further news of the reported raid, a number of American missionaries being stationed at Debra Markos. The town was reported to have been wrecked with many houses and two churches razed.

Bachelor King May Wed

Great Britain's King Edward VIII, above, who today told the English house of commons that "the contingency of his marriage should be taken into account so that, in that event, there should be a provision for her majesty, the queen." The message was read by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer.

Marriage Is Hinted By King Edward

LONDON, March 11. (AP)—The possibility that Edward VIII, bachelor king of England, may marry was officially announced in the house of commons today in a message signed by the king.

The unmarried status of Edward, now 41 years old, long has been one of the outstanding topics of conversation in the British empire and the world at large. As Prince of Wales, he was termed "the world's most eligible bachelor."

Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, read a royal message to the assembled legislators in which Edward pointed out the necessity of revising the civil list—the amounts paid to the members of the royal family.

His Message
The message stated: "His majesty desires that the contingency of his marriage should be taken into account so that, in that event, there should be a provision for her majesty, the queen, and the members of his majesty's family, corresponding to the provisions which the commons has been willing to make in like circumstances in the past."

The Labor party members, William James Thorne, immediately rose with the question: "Does his majesty give any assurance that he is going to get married?" But Chamberlain did not answer.

Will Pay Part
King Edward also requested the house of commons to make "suitable provisions" for the Duke of York, heir presumptive to the throne, "and, in certain events, for his family."

He said, however, that he would bear part of these expenses from the Duchy of Cornwall, the rich estate which for hundreds of years has been administered for the benefit of the Prince of Wales.

There has been considerable speculation as to the disposition of the Duchy of Cornwall, the revenues of which traditionally go to the Prince of Wales—a title which now is not held.

LOOK TO YOUR FEET, GIRLS They Tell Your Temperament

CHICAGO, March 11. (AP)—To gauge a lady's temperament, Andre Perugia of Paris advised today, look at her feet.

The shoe designed who lists royalty among his clients gave these pointers: "A woman who is envious and down-at-the-mouth—she generally has a bunion."

"A woman who walks pigeon-toed is, ah, dull, even stupid."

Truck Crushes Child to Death

DELHI, BOY, 3 VICTIM OF TRAGEDY

Witness Sees Him Run Into Machine's Path; Companion Unhurt

Killed in county traffic accidents so far this year..... 14
Killed in county traffic accidents same time last year..... 8

Death played in the street in Delhi with little 3-year-old Daniel Lopez and his companion, Belle Olivas, 9, at dusk yesterday. They were walking along dusty Flora street in the 600 block just before death struck.

There was a thud, a grinding of brakes punctuated by the screams of a little girl who stood helplessly as her boy companion was crushed beneath the wheels of a truck that turned the corner and ran him down.

Death had claimed another victim, this time a child.

Runs In Truck's Path

According to a report filed by Officers W. B. Moreland and L. H. Nicholson, the truck, which was driven by Philip Garcia, jr., 17, of 2332 Evergreen street, Delhi, had just rounded the corner when Daniel suddenly started to run across the street and stepped directly into its path. The driver was helpless to prevent the accident, according to an eye-witness of the tragedy, Miss Juanita Flores, 626 Flora street.

This morning Miss Flores told Detective Lieutenant Charles Wolford of the police department that the truck was moving slowly at the time and that the little boy had run in front of it. The accident occurred shortly after 6 p. m. Although there were no lights burning on the truck, officers today expressed belief they had not been necessary at that time of day.

Driver Questioned
Young Garcia and his father, Felipe Garcia, were questioned by Officers Moreland and Nicholson, and were assertedly told that the boy had no license to operate the truck.

The boy's body is at Winbiger's mortuary, and arrangements for the funeral are pending announcement of the date for an inquest which Deputy Coroner Bert Casteix has ordered. The boy is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Lopez.

Food Sent 2000 Starving Workers

NIPOMO, Calif., March 11. (AP)—Two thousand impoverished migratory crop workers feasted today on beans, oatmeal and other "delicacies" after weeks of privation.

Denied aid by county agencies, they said, when pea crop harvesting was cut short by poor early yields, they had been subsisting on virtually no money. Their plight was called to the attention of SRA officials yesterday and a state of emergency declared.

Twenty thousand pounds of food and hundreds of garments for the children were rushed here from San Francisco by the surplus commodities division.

State Democratic Votes Cut to 44

SACRAMENTO, March 11. (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley as chairman of the national Democratic party, telephoned Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan today that California will have only 44 votes in the national convention in Philadelphia, instead of 48 as previously announced.

Farley said California will be entitled to two delegates for each congressional district, each of the delegates having one vote, and four delegates for each United States senator, those delegates to have one-half vote each.

Boy, 14, Confesses Slaying Father

PARIS LEANS ON SUPPORT OF REDS

Break Threatened Unless England Gives Support; Others Back French

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

PARIS, March 11.—A high source declared today that France will quit the League of Nations unless Great Britain backs her demand that Reichsfuehrer Hitler withdraw his troops from the Rhineland.

An official said France will "know how to take care of herself," if the international agreements on which collective security is based collapse.

This official said: "Other powers whose policies are based on collective security and who are determined to support the French and Belgian stand before the League of Nations have informed us that, if the treaties seem worthless, they will not hesitate to quit the league."

Will Warn Others
The reference to "other powers" was interpreted in diplomatic quarters as meaning Soviet Russia and the Little Entente of Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Rumania.

This source stated that Pierre-Emienne Flandin, France's foreign minister, will take a warning of such possible action with him when he goes to London tomorrow for a conference of Locarno treaty signatories.

Officials said Flandin was prepared to tell Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, that France was not alone in her stand against further occupation of the Rhineland by German troops.

'War Is Coming'
An authoritative spokesman declared:

"We know war is coming in two years anyhow. We might as well have it now, while we are prepared."

The only way in which Hitler's troops will leave the Rhineland is for the Locarno signatories to drive them out, but a stitch in time saves nine."

The French attitude was described after Flandin had conferred this morning with Ambassador Potemkin of Soviet Russia, the nation with which France signed the military assistance pact upon which Hitler stated he based his denunciation of the Locarno treaty.

Rioter Killed By Priest in Spain

MADRID, March 11. (AP)—A priest's deadly fire into a mob which burned his home added a new facet today to the rioting, which has claimed scores of lives since Spain elected a Leftist government last month.

With new reports of attacks on convents and other religious institutions, a cleric in the village of Ceghin, Murcia province, shot one rioter dead in retaliation for the firing of his house.

Soldiers patrolled streets in Granada after Leftist-Fascist clashes.

Order Restrains Orange Shipper

LOS ANGELES, March 11. (AP)—A temporary restraining order has been granted against Hugh Edwards, head of the Edwards Fruit Company of Colton, by Federal Judge Leon Yankwich. The order, returnable March 19, restrains Edwards from shipping oranges in violation of AAA citrus marketing provisions.

Here's Troubled Europe Picture At a Glance

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS.—French officials said France and other powers would resign from the League of Nations unless Great Britain backs the French demands that Reichsfuehrer Hitler withdraw his soldiers from the Rhineland.

LONDON.—The British cabinet met in one session, and called another emergency meeting for tonight, to consider a solution to the grave Locarno crisis before the pact signatories meet here tomorrow and the league council Saturday for a decision.

BERLIN.—The Reich, insisting on a formal invitation to the league council session, announced that under present conditions Germany would not be represented at the meeting, even though the scene was moved from Geneva to London.

GENEVA.—The League of Nations saw the transfer of negotiations to London as likely to be a calming influence for peace.

FIVE NATIONS AID FRANCE

Little Entente, Balkan Group Join Protest On Rhine Occupation

GENEVA, March 11. (AP)—Representatives of five nations allied in the Little and Balkan Ententes decided today to support the French protest against German reoccupation of the Rhineland.

The nations represented at the session were Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Yugoslavia composing the Little Entente, and Greece and Turkey with which Rumania and Yugoslavia make up the Balkan Entente.

Some league circles forecast that a preliminary exchange of views on the proposal for peace in East Africa will also be considered at the London council session together with the Locarno situation.

GERMANY WANTS FORMAL INVITATION TO PARLEY

BERLIN, March 11. (AP)—A German foreign office spokesman announced today the League of Nations council session in the Locarno crisis would open Saturday without a reich representative, under present conditions, even though the scene of action was shifted from Geneva to London.

The reich insists upon a formal invitation by the league council, the spokesman said, even if the British government, as host to Saturday's meeting, should invite a German representative.

Hitler's absence from the capital at this critical period was explained by chancellery officials thus:

"In Munich, our fuhrer can reflect quietly. Here in Berlin, he must interrupt his meditations constantly because the crowds outside demand that he step to the balcony and show himself."

Santa Ana 'Location' for D.W. Griffith Homecoming

D. W. Griffith, movie director, who startled the world with "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance," will be in Santa Ana with his bride next Sunday for a homecoming celebration. Mr. Griffith was married recently at Louisville, Ky., to Miss Evelyn Baldwin, 26, of New York.

Santa Ana was selected as the spot for the homecoming celebration because a number of Mr. Griffith's relatives reside here. D. W. Griffith and his bride were here last night to help plan the party.

The homecoming affair will take place at the residence of Mrs. Clyde Calhoun, 718 West Sixth street. Mrs. Calhoun formerly was the wife of Jacob Griffith, brother of the director. Jacob Griffith, a newspaper man, died

20 years ago. Clyde Calhoun also is a newspaper man, being employed in the mechanical department of The Journal.

Miss Ruth Griffith, niece of D. W. Griffith and daughter of Mrs. Calhoun, was married to Griffith, the homecoming affair. Both Gerrie and Ruth reside at 718 West Sixth. Gerrie recently won a prize in a Journal contest with an article about her experience in inspecting The Journal plant and offices. Another participant in the homecoming will be Lynn Griffith of Ontario, nephew of D. W. Griffith.

When Mr. and Mrs. Griffith were in Santa Ana last night, Mr. Griffith read Geraldine's winning Journal article and was enthusiastic over it.

BALDWIN CALLS EMERGENCY MEETING TO AIR LOCARNO TROUBLE

FULL REPORT BY ANTHONY EDEN DUE

Meeting Of Signatories Changed From Geneva To London

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press) LONDON, March 11. — Britain's prime minister, Stanley Baldwin, summoned the empire's cabinet in emergency session for 6 p. m. today to hear a full report on the Paris Locarno discussions from Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Viscount Halifax, lord privy seal.

It will precede by only a few hours renewed efforts by Locarno signatories, transferred suddenly from Paris to London, to find a solution of the vexing problem of Nazi remilitarization of the Rhineland.

Two days later—on Saturday—the League of Nations council, its solemn session to consider Franco-Belgian appeals from Hitler's action transferred from Geneva, also will convene in London, probably in the picture gallery of St. James' palace, scene of history-making events of recent years.

The sudden decisions that made London again the nerve-center of Europe's manifold woes left political circles bewildered, but from every side expressions of satisfaction were manifested.

While there was little actual optimism as to the present state of the Locarno discussions, commentators argued the British Isles would provide a cooler, steadier atmosphere for their development.

Italy holds Locarno action in reserve. ROME, March 11. (AP)—An Italian official said today Italy cannot collaborate with Britain and France under the Locarno treaty as long as war sanctions exist against the Fascist nation.

Italy's attitude at the Locarno signatories meeting, this official said, will be one of "absolute reserve" although Premier Mussolini will probably be represented by Dino Grandi, his ambassador to London.

This official source asserted Italy does not want to commit herself on German repudiation of the Locarno pact in view of continuing sanctions against Italian aggression in East Africa.

MORE ABOUT EUROPE

Authoritative sources indicated they believed there was little likelihood that Germany would attend either tomorrow's or Saturday's meeting in London.

French authorities said that, in their viewpoint, Germany, as a violator of the Locarno pact, had outlawed herself from the benefits of that pact and therefore was not entitled to sit in judgment on her own case tomorrow.

As far as Saturday's meeting is concerned, they said, the council would have to invite Germany before the reich could send representatives, since Germany is not a member of the league.

One official said: "This time, France will be satisfied with no gestures. Germany must remove at least 70 per cent of her troops from the Rhineland. The world must know that Germany has ceded."

"This is a poker game, but France knows that she has a royal flush, and, if the cards are laid out on the table, she is certain of winning. Therefore she is willing to go the limit."

This source said he admitted he was unable to see how Hitler, as a dictator, could withdraw 70 per cent of his troops or even a smaller percentage.

Other sources suggested that France might not be the only power which would quit the League of Nations if Hitler did not remove his troops. Others, they indicated, might follow France's lead.

The determination of the French to convince the world that they mean business was reflected in the strong language of officials.

One of them said: "This time, France holds the high hand and will play it if necessary."

Louis Felix Maurin, minister of war, said that for the moment France has taken "sufficient military measures" to meet German militarization of the Rhineland although, he said, Germany has massed 90,000 troops there.

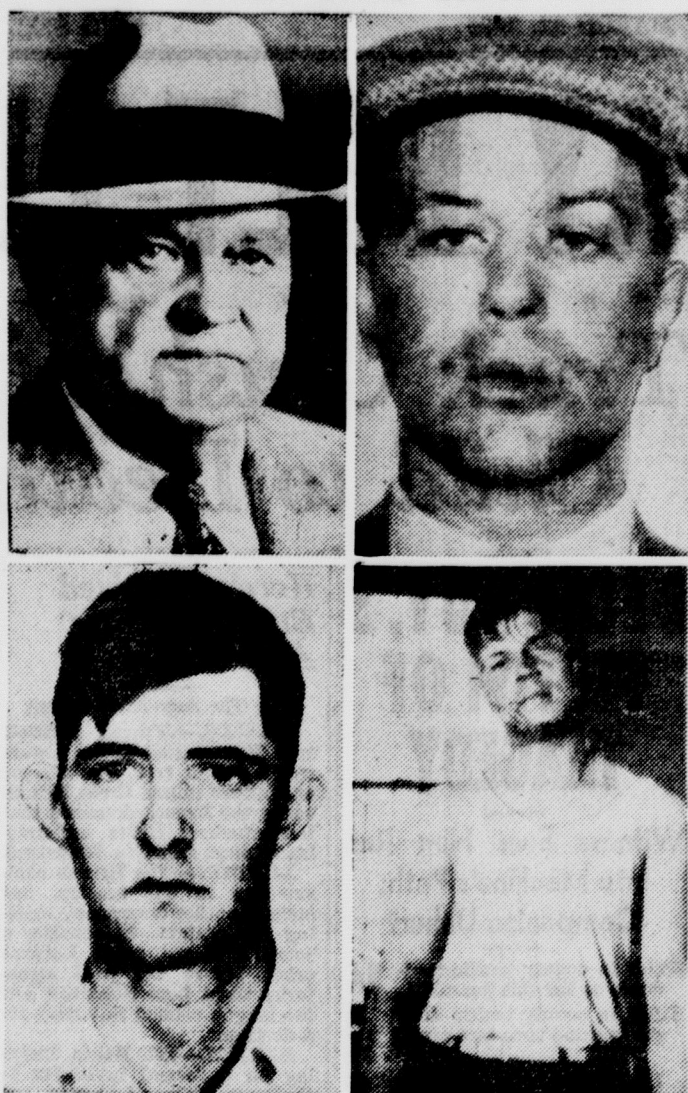

"Present measures consist of placing all our active frontier forces on the alert," the war minister stated. "If events show the necessity to reinforce present activities it will not require general mobilization—we can summon within a few hours the frontier reserve corps for a 'maneuvers period.'"

ROOSEVELT AND KNOX WIN NEW HAMPSHIRE PRIMARY

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 11. (AP)—A Democratic slate solidly pledged to President Roosevelt, and Republican delegates unpledged, but generally favorable to Colonel Frank Knox, were elected yesterday in the nation's first presidential primary, nearly complete returns indicated today.

With only a few communities missing, whose total vote was less than 200, there was no chance of a change in either the Democratic or Republican result.

Republicans favorable to the Manchester and Chicago publishers held the first eight places for delegates-at-large with only seven candidates to be elected. The ninth candidate in the field of 16, State Senator Eliot A. Carter, who pledged himself to Governor Alf Landon, was more than 1000 votes behind.

Charles E. Carroll, who also held seventh position on the basis of latest returns. He was the only one elected of five candidates who favored the Townsend plan.

The four candidates for delegate-at-large who were not pledged to President Roosevelt, brought up the tail-end of the Democratic slate of 16, who sought the eight places.

The seven Republican delegates at large have a full vote, as do each of the two delegates from the two congressional districts, giving them 11 convention votes. Each of the eight Democratic delegates-at-large have a half vote, giving the Democrats eight convention votes when coupled with the district delegates.

The only Roosevelt-slate contest in the districts was in the first, where two candidates declined to run pledged to the President. In 116 of 129 precincts they ran almost five to one behind the leader.

BUILDERS 'SEE LIGHT' IN TALK

Orange County Builders exchange members "saw the light" last night at their regular meeting in Bird's cafe, Laguna Beach. At least they gained a better understanding of light after listening to a talk by Richard Buckley, of the incandescent lamp division of the General Electric Company.

Mr. Buckley's topic was "Better Light, Better Sight."

Mano Zan, coordinator for the state contractors' license bureau, spoke on the subject of coordination between builders exchanges and the building crafts on one hand and the state license bureau on the other.

The group of 65 in attendance was entertained by Floyd Stewart, magician, and Hawaiian orchestra. Among the special guests were Charles Pettifer of Long Beach, president of the state builders exchange, and R. E. Mixer, of the General Electric company.

DEATH DAMAGE SUIT DISMISSED

The $15,699 damage suit of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Villott, Fullerton, against Lawrence Raggio, Los Angeles, over the death of their son, Jeffrey Villott, was dismissed shortly before noon today when Defense Attorney Fred Forgy claimed the plaintiffs had failed to establish a case.

The case had been under progress in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court since yesterday morning. Parents of the boy testified he lost his life through the negligence of Mr. Raggio, when the car in which both were riding tipped over just north of La Habra Heights, in Los Angeles county.

The jury which had been hearing the case was composed of J. L. Kneisl, Jennie Farrar, Alex Grant, Clara Whitson, M. E. Martin, Mrs. LaRue White, Helen Hudson, Inez Lehman, Charles F. Severance, J. M. Gunnelt, Charles E. Boyd and Charles Chansler.

Bandit Holds Up Bank in Pasadena

PASADENA, March 11. (AP)—A man who lay in wait during the night in a branch of the Bank of America held up two officials of the institution today and escaped with between $3500 and $4000 in cash.

The robber apparently entered the bank through a skylight. He bound and gagged George Dietzler, branch manager, and Joseph Knapp, teller, when they arrived for work after forcing them to turn over two cash boxes.

6 DIRECTORS ELECTED BY CHAMBER

There were six new faces on the board of directors of the Santa Ana chamber of commerce today. These six new directors and four old ones were named to serve for the coming year at the annual election staged yesterday. Five holdover members will join them to make up the board of 15 members.

The new members elected yesterday to serve for one year were: Milburn Harvey, Lester Fountain, Hugh Lowe, John Henderson and Carl Stein. One new director, Fred Merker, was elected for a two-year term.

Others elected for the two-year term were James Harding, Rex Kennedy, W. D. Ranney and Herbert Miller. The latter group have been serving for the past year.

Holdover members whose terms did not expire are Wilbur Barr, William E. Baker, Ellis Diehl, Harry Hanson and W. H. Spurgeon.

The new board will meet Monday at 9 a. m. to organize and elect officers. Mr. Spurgeon is president of the chamber at present. James Harding is first vice president, Frank Henderson second vice president, and Ellis Diehl treasurer.

MUSEUM TALKS SLATED HERE

The Bowers Memorial museum will be host to the public at a special series of talks to be held on Saturdays, at which authorities on topics of interest in connection with museums will speak. Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator at the museum, announced the series of talks today.

The first speaker will be H. Pascal Webb, of the Los Angeles school system, who for more than 25 years has studied California missions from an architectural point of view. He has what is said to be the largest and best collection of mission photographs in existence, a number of which are now on display at the Bowers museum.

He will speak at 2:30 p. m. Saturday on the subject, "The Missions As I Know Them." Following the talk there will be a personally conducted tour of the museum to view the mission photographs on display.

On the following Saturday the talk will be given by Harriet Williams Myers, president of the State Audubon society and authority on bird life. She is the author of five books on western and California bird life and has made a specialty of photographing birds. Her tinted pictures of bird life will be a feature of her appearance.

In the near future, Mrs. Coulter said, there will be a talk by Evelyn Munn Miller, of Santa Ana and Los Angeles, who will display her recently completed paintings of Navajo Indian life. She will appear in Navajo costume. In the next few weeks she will take her paintings on an eastern tour.

Singer 'Walks Out' On Film Contract

DETROIT, March 11. (AP)—Grace Moore said today she is "walking out" on her motion picture contract. "Hollywood learns to treat me more like a human being and less like a machine," she said. "The singer is here for a concert tonight."

"In the last picture I made in Hollywood," she said in an interview, "they made me sing all day and milk a cow in the bargain. I don't mind milking a cow or two in the course of a day, but also to sing all day is something else again. I have another public besides that one out in Hollywood."

Filbuster Faces Ship Subsidy Bill

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—Senator Clark (D., Mo.) said today he "and about 20 others" would kill the Copeland ship subsidy bill by means of a filibuster. He said it contained no safeguards against "robbery" of the government.

His pronouncement beclouded the controversial problem that has pressed upon congress since President Roosevelt early in his administration announced he wanted to substitute direct subsidies for the present ocean mail contracts, widely called indirect subsidies.

Orange County's Fish Law Argued

FRESNO, March 11. (AP)—The fourth district court of appeal on Tuesday heard oral arguments on a writ of habeas corpus of Joseph Giampe, fisherman, to gain his freedom from a charge of fishing off the shores of Orange county in violation of the state fish and game code.

Giampe argued the legislation establishing regulation as to the use of nets is unconstitutional in that it is applied and local legislation adopted in violation of the constitution. The case will be submitted to the court on briefs.

PEACE OFFER SPURNED BY STRIKERS

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—Leaders of the building workers' strike spurned peace overtures of reality interests today and made plans to intensify the walkout throughout the city.

James J. Bambrick, head of the Building Service Employees' union, described as "absurd" and "rank treachery" a recommendation made by Walter Gordon Merritt, counsel for the realty advisory board, that replacement workers hired in good faith be retained.

"That's absurd," Bambrick declared. "We'll fight it out if it takes all summer."

Merritt made his recommendation in an address last night in which he urged a three-year extension of the mayor's agreement of 1934 and the subsequent Curran award, and immediate arbitration of wages and further arbitration of wage rates at the end of the first and second years.

He added, however, that the group which he represented would not dislodge replacement workers hired in good faith as permanent employees and would refuse to re-hire strikers involved in disorders and violence during the walk-out.

Bambrick said that by tonight "the city will be in a very active state. The men are very much on their toes," he added. "We expect spontaneous walk-outs all over town today."

The bureau of operations at police headquarters announced that 2381 buildings have been called out on strike and that 222 of those had reached settlements with the union.

THEFT SUSPECT HELD IN JAIL

Ralph J. McDowell, 28, Costa Mesa, was booked at the county jail late yesterday charged with grand theft, following his arrest by Deputy Sheriff James Workman and Fred Humiston.

According to a report filed by the arresting officers, McDowell reportedly removed $32 in cash from the person of William Hixon, Costa Mesa, while the latter was asleep.

At 3:30 p. m. yesterday Hixon called officers and asked them to investigate the case. He asserted told them he had become intoxicated yesterday and that McDowell had taken him home and put him to bed.

Witnesses told officers they had seen Hixon count $32 in bills and place them in a wallet before he was taken to his home by McDowell. When Hixon's wife came home at 7 p. m. yesterday, she found her husband asleep in bed. When he woke up, he looked in the billfold and found the money missing.

McDowell was questioned, and at first told officers he had put Hixon to bed. He later denied having entered the house at all.

MISSING LOCAL MAN IS SOUGHT

Police throughout Southern California were asked to be on the lookout today for Lee Carpenter, 45, who disappeared from his home in Santa Ana approximately seven years ago. The search is the result of a request filed with Santa Ana police by V. L. Motry, Santa Ana, a former friend of the missing man.

Mr. Motry told police Mr. Carpenter left his home here seven years ago following a family row. Both of Mr. Carpenter's parents passed away a short time ago, and it is necessary to locate him in order to straighten out matters concerning the estate of his parents.

DRUNK DRIVING SUSPECTS NABBED

Two men were booked at the county jail yesterday charged with drunk driving. John W. Peart, 49, Los Angeles, was booked at 4:30 p. m. following his arrest in Tustin by Chief of Police John Stanton. The other arrested drunk driver is William Bridwell, 23, of 2011 Halliday street, Santa Ana. Bridwell was arrested by Anaheim police.

Democrats Leading G.O.P. In County By 258 Votes

Democrats still are leading Republicans in total registration in Orange county. Latest figures in the pre-election showing of strength released today by County Clerk Joe Backs show the G. O. P. trailing by 258 voters.

The total Republican registration in the county is 26,353; Democratic registration is 26,611. The Prohibition party is leading all the minor political factions, with 322 voters. The Communist party has one registered voter in the county.

A total of 1140 declined to state their affiliations. Registration for the May primary elections will close on March 26, Mr. Backs announced. Registration for city elections, to be held in all incorporated cities in the county except Santa Ana, on April 14, was closed March 5.

In Santa Ana the Democratic party still is leading by a total 334 votes, more than the total majorities for the county. The Democrats also are leading in Seal Beach, La Habra, Huntington Beach, San Clemente, Placentia, Newport Beach and Brea.

However, the margin of difference in Orange is large, giving the Republican party 2412 voters, as opposed to 1574 for the Democratic party. In Fullerton the Republicans have piled up a lead of slightly more than 200 votes, and the G. O. P. is barely out in front in Anaheim by 27 votes.

List by Cities

Total figures in each incorporated city of the county are: Anaheim—Republican 2338, Democratic 2311, miscellaneous 144; Brea—Republican 566, Democratic 640, miscellaneous 45; Newport Beach—Republican 902, Democratic 922, miscellaneous 81; Orange—Republican 2412, Democratic 1574, miscellaneous 169.

Placentia—Republican 195, Democratic 233, miscellaneous 10; San Clemente—Republican 143, Democratic 164, miscellaneous 8; Fullerton—Republican 2431, Democratic 2216, miscellaneous 168; Huntington Beach—Republican 702, Democratic 1216, miscellaneous 54; Laguna Beach—Republican 789, Democratic 690, miscellaneous 60.

La Habra—Republican 459, Democratic 464, miscellaneous 44; Seal Beach—Republican 249, Democratic 485, miscellaneous 25; Tustin—Republican 244, Democratic 208, miscellaneous 16.

JANUARY GOOD CITRUS MONTH

January was a good month for orange growers, compared to January of 1935, it was shown today in a summary of prices for farm products made public by Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg.

Oranges brought $1.45 per box last January, while in January, 1935, they brought $1.10. The same situation held good for lemon growers. Lemons brought $2.70 per box last January, while in January, 1935, they brought $1.85.

Mr. Wahlberg's report was based upon figures made public by the Giannini foundation of the University of California. The report also showed that 16 out of 24 agricultural products brought increased income to California producers in January, as compared to January a year ago.

The commodities generally reached 92 per cent of the average producer income in January figures covering the period from 1911 to 1915.

Increases were reported for hogs, veal calves, beef cattle, lambs, sheep, butter and potatoes. Lower prices were reported for eggs, barley corn and beans.

Walt Leichtfuss
About Baseball

Out at El Toro Veterans camp a 57-year-old, youngster, Elam by name, finished fourth—only 10 yards behind—in a mile-and-an-eighth race won by Wickelwicks, veteran in his 40's, in the respectable time of eight minutes.

Few high school or junior college athletes could cover the same distance in less than five minutes. That a man nearing his 60's can set an eight-minute pace is considered rather remarkable.

Twelve entries, clad in shorts, went to their marks in front of El Toro's depot yesterday and raced to the camp. Between Wickelwicks and Elam at the finish were Caselberg and Roedecke, two and five yards behind the winner, respectively. Prizes of $5, $1 and cigarettes went to the conquering four-some.

The race marked the beginning of competitive athletics at the camp.

El Toro's vets plan to challenge Oak Grove of Pasadena and Griffith park of Los Angeles for track meets in the immediate future.

Why did Walt (Sonny) Leichtfuss pass up Santa Ana for Fullerton Junior college?

Reason: The Orange prep star, debating at length whether to swing to the Yellowjackets or the Dons, elected to enroll at Fullerton because he likes baseball, and was told the university institution had better diamond prospects.

Walt made a wise decision, for the Dons have dropped—temporarily, at least—the national game, while Fullerton shapes up as a dreaded contender with Riverside and Chaffrey in the Eastern conference.

Santa Ana's loss was Fullerton's gain in basketball as well as baseball. Leichtfuss blossomed into a sensational forward (he was perhaps the outstanding individual in the Riverside-Fullerton play-off) this year, and his melon-tossing activities next winter could easily be the downfall of our Dons.

Keep your eye on San Bernardino in American league night-ball.

Howard Bard's inlanders, who have booked exhibition games with Santa Ana's Stars for April 8 and 21, not so long ago acquired Venn Botts, Colton's ace gunner, well known to local nightball addicts. Now he has signed highly touted infielder named Gus Kramer from Kansas City, and a player-manager in Les White, infielder.

Until its park is renovated, San Bernardino will transfer early exhibitions to Colton. The club also plans to blossom out in new uniforms.

From out of the Saint dug-out at Fullerton yesterday came fancy kidding for Bill (Fatty) Tibbs, Fullerton outfielder. Young Tibbs attended junior high school in Santa Ana before moving to Fullerton, and is well acquainted with several members of the Saint baseball varsity. He was teased plenty when he struck out twice, but the Saint chatter ceased when Tibbs drove in one of the runs in the fifth that awarded Fullerton the game, 7-2.

Add observations: No grass grows under the feet of Glenn Vaughan, brother of famous Floyd (Arky) of the Pittsburgh Pirates, in traveling to first base. Young Glenn, second-baseman for Fullerton High, is pull-out fast on the bases. His hitting and fielding, however, are nothing sensational.

WRESTLING

NEWARK, N. J.—Ernie Dusek, 223, Omaha, defeated Abe Coleman, 210, Chicago, two falls out of three.

INDIANAPOLIS—Pat O'Shock, 225, Salt Lake City, defeated George Zaharias, 241, Pueblo, Colo. Zaharias disqualified.

Long Shot Player Scores Upset In Racing Contest

By OSCAR OATS

Bring on your form players! Old Tryon Beaten, the strictly long-shot player, was chortling that over his morning eggs this morning as I walked in and showed him the results of the first day of his contest with Wynot Riskitt, the dead-eye favorite picker. Beaten did just that yesterday, making a net of $80 on his $50 investment; Riskitt was $2 in the red.

In the event you were looking out the window yesterday, Riskitt and Beaten are having a contest. I'm the judge and jury. You're the audience. Beaten select eight horses, on which they place $10 each—to win only. No foolin' around with place and show bets. They're limited to one horse, Riskitt stringing with the favorites and following the form charts, and Beaten plunging on all the long shots. Solomon Wise, a Jewish spectator, has placed a side bet with the boys that the track—with the 11 or 12 per cent cut coming to it—will have more of their original bankroll at the end of the 25-day meeting at Tanforan than either of them.

GENE LILLARD PLAYS THIRD FOR CUBS

Senators To Get Skull Practice; Van Mungo Balks At $11,500

AVAILON.—Manager Charlie Grimm was busy today revising the Cubs lineup for the opening of the series with the White Sox on Friday. Gene Lillard, Los Angeles recruit, was at third for Stan Hack who was called away by the death of his mother. Frank Demaree, absent because of the illness of his father, will be replaced by Tuck Stainback or Johnny Gill in left field.

ORLANDO.—With the memory of last year's baseline errors still ranking, Manager Bucky Harris of the Senators cancelled afternoon leaves beginning tomorrow and said he would start skull practice on infield strategy. "If we could take back some of those games we lost by dumb base running and poor handling of the ball, we'd have been in the first division," he said.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Most Brooklyn Dodgers are hoping that the management will get Pitcher Van Mungo into the fold without further delay. Some say that he has asked for $12,000 and that the men who hold the money box have agreed to $11,500—but balk on the other half grand.

LAKELAND.—With Goose Goslin signed up, the Tigers spent a rainy day in camp speculating on Hank Greenberg's holdout demands, guessed variously at $25,000 to $35,000. Camp reports were that Hank has been spending time with new league rules and still retains the "lobster claw" he used last year.

WEST PALM BEACH.—Rogers Hornsby has applied himself to an age-old baseball problem—how to make hitters out of pitchers. He is giving his hurlers a half hour of personal batting instruction daily.

PASADENA.—John Whitehead, Monte Stratton and Ira Hutchinson are Jimmy Dykes' choices to pitch for the White Sox against the Cubs in the opening of the "city series" against the Cubs in Los Angeles. Malin McCulloch, rookie outfielder, will be in center field in place of George Stumpf.

ST. PETERSBURG.—Charley Ruffing, Yankee right hander, and Ben Chapman, the fly chaser, are adding grey hairs to the head of genial Joe McCarthy, manager. Nearly everyone feels that their salary difficulties will be straightened out eventually but their conditioning is being seriously retarded meanwhile.

Lee Decisions Zorrita in L. A.

LOS ANGELES, March 11. (AP) Aggressiveness won Glenn Lee, Nebraska welterweight, a 10-round decision over Leon Zorrita, Los Angeles Negro.

Referee Jack Kennedy called four rounds in favor of each fighter and two even, but gave Lee the nod because he forced the action most of the route last night. There were no knockdowns. Lee, 146, outwitted Zorrita by a pound.

Mammoth Matmen Clash at Olympic

LOS ANGELES, March 11. (AP) More than 600 pounds of wrestling beef will crowd the Olympic auditorium ring tonight in a three-fall event.

Man Mountain Dean, 317 pounds, grapples with Tiny Roebuck, only a 265-pounder. A shot at Vito Lee, Iron Mountain, came through and paid $29 for the $10 investment. Toro Flight hit the wire first and returned $49 for the $10 investment. That made a total of $78—$2 less the amount Riskitt had chucked in for the day.

Although he only picked one winner, Beaten was more fortunate. He had $10 on the nose of Lapland in the second. Lapland paid $32 for a $2 ticket—or $160 for $10. That made Beaten net $80 for his day's work.

Beaten did better, how the boys turned in their selections for today: Riskitt's form selections: Migdon, Lysander, Sophist, Happy Bolivar, Our Mae, Propagandist, Bill Bane.

Beaten's "plunger" choices: Lady Valorous, Shasta Fire, Secret Tryst, Gay Streamer, Cucumaca, Squeezer, Itsown.

DYKES SEES 'CHANCE' FOR WHITE SOX

MOUND STAFF NO TROUBLE TO CHICAGO

'We May Sneak In,' Says Comiskey Manager At Pasadena Camp

By ROBERT MEYERS

PASADENA, March 11. (AP)—Jimmy Dykes isn't kidding himself or Chicago fans into believing the White Sox will win the American League pennant this year.

"But gives us a fair break," predicted the likeable Mr. Dykes, "and we're liable to sneak right in and wind up in the first division."

"It'll be tough going," he continued, "because you take Boston, Cleveland and New York—and understand I'm not picking them to finish in that order, either—but if they get to battling around up at the top, someone is going to get knocked down, and..."

Dykes paused, his eyes looking over a clubhouse full of Sox players in various stages of dress and undress, and repeated:

"We might sneak in ourselves. It can be done."

Dykes is pleased with progress of spring training here, and if he has more than a reasonable amount of confidence in any department of his club, it's the pitching staff.

What Fun!

"It's fun, just to show you how things can go in baseball, but last year I figured our pitching was going to be the chief worry. And look how it turned out. Teddy Lyons came back and won 15 games. Johnny Whitehead, a rookie, won eight straight and finished with 13 to the good. Vernon Kennedy won 11, and the rest of the boys were fine."

"This year they're all back. Lyons, the only veteran, so to speak, should have another great season. Whitehead, Leslie Tietje, Monty Stratton, 'Red' Evans, who won 24 with Oklahoma City last year, Ira Hutchinson, Kennedy, John Salverson—they're all good pitchers."

And you never can tell, another Rookie may blossom into a star."

Too Early Yet

It's a little too early to get a definite line on the rest of the club, but it's certain that Dykes will continue to manage affairs from his regular third base position.

First base seems a problem, with Zeke Bonura, the New Orleans fair "magnate," absent from the spring camp pending salary adjustment with J. Louis Comiskey et al. Yet Dykes said Bonura's presence now or later is not of grave importance.

"The Mule," said Dykes, referring to George "Mule" Hays, "looks pretty good at first. He's got big hands, handles himself well, and will make a good first baseman with a little more conditioning."

Haas as utility outfielder batted 291 last year, which was just about as good as Zeke Bonura's 285. And Haas was bothered with a bad charley horse and a strained wrist tendon. Watching him cavort around first now, both ailments seem to have disappeared.

Luke Appling, the "country gentleman from Georgia" in the winter, who was one of the club's leading hitters with a .307 last year, will be back at short, and Tony Piet, the big blond ex-Toronto boy, has been handling second in the absence of Minter Hayes, another holdout.

Vernon George Washington, Marshall Mauldin and Malin McCulloch are candidates. Washington hit .283 for the Sox last year.

Beaver Yannigans Wallop Regulars; Gudat Hits 13 Good Ones In 14 Efforts

(By the Associated Press)

SANTA MONICA.—Seattle's Coast league club played host to the University of Southern California baseball nine today in a pro-collegian skirmish.

Howard Craghead was nominated to pitch for Seattle, while Joe Gonzales, classy schoolboy hurler, took over the Trojan mound assignment.

FULLERTON.—Herman (Hec) Carroll stepped into the pitcher's box on his first day in the San Diego baseball camp and twirled the "lemons" to a 4-2 victory over the "oranges." The big right hander from the U. S. S. Tennessee allowed the regulars only seven hits.

RIVERSIDE.—Sacramento's roster lacked only one player today to be complete, Jimmy Lyons, Rochester hurler.

Manager Bill Killefer was heartened yesterday by the arrival of Pitcher Dick Ward, former coast strikeout king, and Art Garbald, expected to fill the second-base position.

SAN BERNARDINO.—A spring practice record of 13 hits in 14 times at bat was marked up today by Marvin Gudat, Los Angeles.

WILKINS, STAR HURLER, IS MISSING

Hard hit by illness, temporarily shelving three of their regulars, Santa Ana High school's baseball charges probably will be on the receiving end of nothing except misery this week.

They go up against Whittier's Cardinals and their poisonous pitcher, Fred Lilly, at Poly field tomorrow afternoon, and it is doubtful whether the Saints will fare any better than they did in dropping a 7-2 decision at Fullerton yesterday.

Clyde Cook's preps were tabbed to lose again at Glendale today.

Wilkins Ailing

Jimmy Wilkins, mound star, was out of school yesterday with a touch of flu, but may be ready for the encounter with Whittier tomorrow. Art Nieblas, hard-hitting outfielder, was missing at Fullerton, too. He may be out all week with a severe cold.

The third victim is Lewis Olivas, petite righthander who hurled beautifully for four innings against Fullerton before complaining with a throat ailment that caused his removal.

Little Olivas moved down eight batters on strike-outs for an average of two per inning.

Norman Wyckoff, dependable hitting centerfielder, was called out of the gardens to finish yesterday's exhibition with the count at 2-all going into the last of the fifth. He was promptly greeted by a barrage of base-knocks that netted two runs. He yielded four hits for three runs in the eighth.

Avenches Whitewashing

Fullerton began early to avenge a 1-0 whitewashing suffered at Poly field recently. Johnny Aramburo's Indians opened the first frame with Glenn Vaughn, brother of Shortstop Floyd (Arky) of the Pittsburgh Pirates, leading off with a single. Stone drove another single into centerfield, Vaughn scoring all the way from first when Wyckoff was slow in retrieving the ball. Stone went to second on the play, to third on a passed ball, and scored when Catcher Ferra Wall threw wildly to Olivas in the box.

Hines Looks Good

Ray O'Campo, Harold Jesse and Wyckoff singled in the third for Santa Ana's first run. O'Campo also came around with Santa Ana's only other counter in the fifth. He walked, took second on Erwin Youel's sacrifice, Jesse's sacrifice and Wyckoff's timely single. Youel was safe on his attempt when the third-baseman juggled the ball.

Tony (Slim) Hines went the full route for Fullerton on the ridge. He fanned 11, and scattered the Cookmen to eight scattered blows. Hines always has been effective against the Saints.

FINANCES FOR U. S. ENTRIES AT STAKE

Need More Funds, Says Authority; Disputes Don't Help Matters

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 11.—It will take another European war to stop the remainder of the 1936 Olympic program, slated for the first two weeks of August in Berlin.

That's what prevented the games the last time they were awarded to the German capital. The World war, however, broke out in 1914 and by 1916, no one was giving the Olympic situation much thought.

It wasn't until the third Olympiad in 1928 at Amsterdam that Germany was welcomed back into the international athletic fold, and made an excellent all-around showing.

Disputes Won't Help

The "jinx," as far as Germany is concerned, still holds, even if the record-breaking 1936 entry answers the roll call at Berlin. Disputes resulting from the Hitler government's policies on racial and religious have not helped foster international athletic good will.

Olympic financing is at stake in all three countries. America's participation in the winter sports was financed on a cash-or-carry-over plan. The goal of $300,000 or more, needed to send complete U. S. teams to the summer events, won't be reached without a terrific struggle.

Games Will Go On

Regardless of all difficulties, hazards or bones of contention, the fact remains the games will go on, barring another general call to arms.

America's tennis forces may be saved the expense of another wasted trip to Europe this summer in quest of the Davis cup.

Australia, challenging in the North American zone, looks to have the manpower capable of beating this country's best in the finals to be held at the German town (Pa.) cricket club.

Australia's trio of Jack Crawford, Vivian McGrath and Adrian Quist, looks more formidable than the prospective American lineup with Wilmer Allison and Don Budge in the singles, Allison and John Van Ryn or Budge and Gene Mako in the doubles, and Bryan (Bitsy) Grant in reserve.

With the middle of March at hand, only five of the 16 major league baseball clubs report all hands signed for the coming season. The holdout situation is unprecedented.

Olympic Casaba Tryouts Near

LOS ANGELES, March 11. (AP) University of Southern California and Redlands university will open play in the Olympic basketball elimination tournament in a game here Friday night.

Redlands, Southern California conference champion, and S. C. runner-up to Stanford in the coast southern division race, are the only teams entered from this section of the state. Stanford is automatically qualified as one of the two teams from the tenth district that will play in the final Pacific coast Olympic basketball tryouts in Seattle March 27 and 28.

PORKY TO FIGHT LE MANZA

Ex-Gridder On Fight Card

Artie LeManza, Santa Ana Mexican scrapper, today agreed to meet Fred (Porky) Bell, ex-Saint and Don football celebrity, in one of the four-round preliminaries to the Lupe LeMon-Henry Lowe heavyweight rematch Friday night at the Orange County Athletic club. "Jungle Jim" Woodruff, Anaheim, added additional time to get into shape before meeting Bell.

Larry Ledford of San Bernardino has been signed to meet another amateur sensation, Ken Holiday. Holiday is rapidly gaining the reputation of being one of the best "crowd pleasers" in the amateur ranks. Although he failed to receive any kind of a fight last week when he kayoed Henry Durbin in a round, Holiday should find Ledford troublesome and will be forced to travel at top speed to win.

Since breaking into the amateur game here two months ago Holiday has won all his fights except one, and that was a disputed call. Mo at ringsiders thought he had scored over Clyde Lewis, Indian from Sherman, two weeks ago, in spite of Referee Nyland's verdict.

Battling Bill White, rugged San Bernardino lightweight, has been signed to meet the highly touted Kentucky scrapper, Alvin Gray, in one of the four prelims. The White-Gray battle of "colors" will replace the proposed Hunt-Hayes scrap.

RIVERSIDE, L. A. PREP ATHLETIC FIVES CLASH

Southern California Junior college basketball honors will be waiting for a home when Los Angeles and Riverside, respective standard-bearers of the Western and Eastern conferences, tangle in Chapman college gym on Vermont avenue, Los Angeles, at 8 o'clock tonight.

Dave Farrell's Metropolitan city Cubs dominated the first play-off game, 41 to 23, and will be favored in the second encounter, all the more so now that Billy Peterson, Riverside's beanpole center, has been benched with a leg ailment. Los Angeles will win the title outright, they're here to stay. Only which will send two five into a third conflict on a neutral floor Friday night.

BITES and BAIT

By LYING SCOTSMAN, jr.

You could have knocked me over with a feather when the live bait boat came in last Friday afternoon blowing its whistle like everything with 20 yellowtail aboard, caught by four fishermen. The first of the season!

Saturday the boat went out again and did the same thing. From what I've heard Long Beach has had a run of 'em also, so I guess they're here to stay. Only one live bait boat operating, leaving at 8 a. m. with two on Sunday. One at 7 and one at 8. There's five others tied up over there in the bay all cleaned up and ready to start as soon as the crowds want 'em. Owl, Sunshine, Valencia, Serio, Wolfman, Flyer and Tillicum.

You can call me a liar if you want to but surf fishermen are catching yellowfin and corbina. Not in any great numbers, but nevertheless, they're catching 'em. If you can get rock worms they make a good bait. Catching them at 36th Street, Green House below Balboa and next to the east jetty cavern on Corona Del Mar. Catching a few sand crabs for bait, but they're still a little scarce.

Bay fishermen are getting a few crocker and yellowfin with an occasional halibut. Biting on razor clams.

Here's our one and only classified ad: Wanted. One darn good sand crab catcher to supply a bait house with sand crabs. If any of you see or read this know of anybody who wants to dig bugs, well, get in touch with me. There's a good living in it for somebody who's got a little ambition and not afraid to get his feet wet. Now, I'm not fooling, mean business. Wanted: "A Bug Catcher." Phone Newport 97-W.

Fishermen on the barge are catching tons of mackerel. But who wants to fish for mackerel? Mark, my word. They'll be as important as yellowtail are today in 10 years, if things keep up like they are. First boat 7 a. m. with one about every hour after. Last boat comes in at 4:30. No night fishing until June.

BRONCOS WIN ONE

LOS ANGELES, March 11. (AP) Santa Clara capped a disastrous southern invasion with a rousing 14 to 6 victory over the University of California at Los Angeles baseball team yesterday.

DON DIAMOND STARS JOIN NEW CLUB

They can take baseball away from the junior college, but they cannot take the junior college away from baseball.

The physical education department and the associated students' executive board, after a careful survey, recently voted to discontinue the national game here because of insufficient interest.

Now the Dons who like baseball, but who were unsuccessful in persuading enough classmates to turn out for the sport, are joining Santa Anita, one of the city's independent nines of long standing.

Willie Jones, Negro pitching star who transferred from Santa Anita High school mainly to play ball for the Dons, will be developed as Santa Anita's first-string chucker. Jones would have enrolled at Fullerton had he known the Dons were going to drop the sport, he said. Armand Hanson, junior college southpaw, also will perform for Santa Anita.

Clarence (Tay) Riggs, infielder; Cliff Lee, catcher, and perhaps Tommy Lacy, shortstop, are other Dons who will join Jones and Hanson on the team now being reorganized by Jesse Ojeda, ex-third baseman for the Saints.

Jack McClure, giant first baseman, and Paul Bingle, ex-Saint outfielder, will be among the Don players' teammates. McClure will be eligible for the high school next season. He missed the first semester of this term because of injuries received in a traffic accident, but re-enrolled in February.

Net Title Is Work To Greg Mangin

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP) Winning the United States indoor singles tennis championship isn't just plain recreation any longer for Gregory Mangin. It's work now.

Mangin emerged victorious from last night's final round match with Leonard Hartman, a former Columbia University athlete, but it wasn't the breeze like some of his other championship triumphs.

The scores were 6-1, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, representing a victory of the country over an unorthodox stroke producer who is rated 24th.

Mangin is set to fight to win the title, his fourth in five years.

'JAFSIE' EN ROUTE HOME, FACES NEW QUIZZING IN LINDY CASE

LOCAL HEADS CERTAIN FOR S. A. FORUM

That the proposed forum for Santa Ana and Orange county, to be financed by the federal government, would be locally directed and controlled, was shown today in a communication from School Superintendent Frank Henderson. Mr. Henderson has conferred at length on the project with its originator, Dr. John W. Studebaker, national commissioner of education.

A letter sent to newspapers by Mr. Henderson points out that the forum would be under the control of an executive committee to be selected in Orange county. This would mean that policies and selection of speakers would be entirely in the hands of local people.

In explaining plans for the forum project, which will be carried out in 10 communities in the United States, Dr. Studebaker said: "There is not going to be any set program dictated by my office to the local communities. We are doing this thing partly in order to find out how adult civic education can best be carried out in various kinds of communities under local control and management."

"Nothing is more important to American democracy than that the people in all walks of life in their own localities with the help of their own educational institutions shall devise means of getting a clearer understanding of their coming problems through a process of free discussion, giving opportunity for the expression of every important point of view."

Tonight high school principals of the county will meet in Santa Ana to discuss the project. The Santa Ana board of education has approved it. Final selection of the cities in which the forum will be established throughout the nation has not been announced.

Points of interest visited were the United States rabbit experimental farm and the cooperative poultrymen's feed mill at Fontana, and the recreational area at Big Pines. Members of 4-H clubs at Tustin, Orange, Olive, Anaheim, Santa Ana, Alamitos, Katella, Buena Park, Yorba Linda and Cypress attended.

Legion Marks Anniversary Of New Hall On Thursday

The earthquake of March 10, 1933, has been the cause of at least one celebration in Santa Ana, it was revealed today. The quake damaged the old American Legion building at 315 North Birch street, but that isn't the cause of the coming celebration.

The celebration will commemorate the second anniversary of the rebuilding of the American Legion home, now known as Veterans hall. The structure has been rebuilt and remodeled into a modern, first-class home for the Legion and the Auxiliary, which will join in the celebration scheduled for tomorrow.

The affair will start at 8 p. m. and all Legionnaires, auxiliary members and their families will attend. Admission will be by membership cards. A vaudeville show, featuring the best amateur talent in Orange county, will be staged. The Huntington Park symphony orchestra of 20 pieces will present a feature act.

Dancing will be part of the program, with Ray Gilbert and his orchestra providing the music. There also will be tables for those who prefer to play cards. A buffet luncheon will be served.

India Sacred Lily, Brought Here 5 Years Ago, Blooms

Have you ever seen a sacred lily of India? The chances are you have not, and undoubtedly you have missed something.

The sacred lily of India, an extremely rare plant in the United States, was first imported to America about five years ago. At that time, J. K. Wilbur, owner of a flower shop at Birch and First streets, Santa Ana, obtained one of the bulbs. Only 12 were brought into the United States, and since they do not bloom until five years old, it wasn't until last week that the first blossoms broke forth in Santa Ana.

For some time the lily was on display at Mr. Wilbur's flower shop, but it is now at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Besser, 2212 North Ross street. The blossom is 12 inches across, and the stem is 26 inches in length. The petals of the giant bloom are a deep purple, sometime shading into a maroon. The stamens are a like color, somewhat lighter at the tip, and in texture resembles fine leather with an incandescent sheen.

The one bulb that Mr. Wilbur obtained five years ago, through multiplication, has developed into nearly 70 bulbs, he said. They do not need any care in growing—just a warm corner of the yard somewhere. They do not even have to be put under ground, Mr. Wilbur reported, and they need neither water nor fertilizer. Just let them lay around for four years and if you are lucky, you will have a blossom at the end of that time.

Mr. Scofield will discuss work of the state patrol boats in keeping commercial purse-seiners out of the fish preserves, the "tagging" of fish and other activities of the state fish and game commission in keeping California waters stocked with game fish.

COUNTY WILL HELP BUILD NEW DRAIN

Orange county will participate in the West Anaheim storm drain project to the extent of $25,000, the board of supervisors decided yesterday afternoon.

That sum was appropriated from the unbudgeted reserve fund to assist in the work, being conducted at the present time along Manchester boulevard between Anaheim and Buena Park.

The county recently condemned approximately 80 acres belonging to the P. A. Stanton property at that point, a price of $23,000 being set as the value of the property, after a court dispute on the matter.

The entire cost of the project, which is being conducted under the Works Progress administration, will approximate $118,000, it was explained. The sum appropriated by the county was for no special purpose, but was merely the county's share in the undertaking.

SEEKS PROPERTY, STOCK IN SUIT

E. H. Mann entered a complaint for specific performance in superior court yesterday against Marie S. Reavis, charging that she had failed to fulfill the conditions of a contract entered into with him on Dec. 1, 1932.

Mr. Mann asserted the contract stipulated he would grade, clear and improve a 16-acre parcel of property belonging to Mrs. Reavis at 8454 1/2 street, and Fletcher avenue, in Orange, for which she was to pay him with one acre of the property, and one share of Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company water stock.

This he asserts she has not done, although he has fulfilled his part of the contract. He asks the payment of stock and property, plus $500 damages and court costs.

BEATTY, HERO OF BRITISH NAVY, DIES

LONDON, March 11. (AP)—Earl Beatty, 65, World war navy hero and former first lord of the admiralty, died early today at his London home, his long illness having been aggravated by attendance at the funerals of King George V and Earl Jellicoe.

The death of the square-jawed, keen-eyed retired admiral of the fleet, originator of the world-famed "Beatty tilt," the jaunty angle at which he wore his cap, created a new gap in the fast-thinning ranks of Britain's war leaders.

Earl Beatty, whose dashing conduct in the battle of Jutland and other engagements won him a place as a navy hero, succumbed to complications arising from a severe cold he suffered last fall.

Earl Beatty retired as admiral of the fleet when he reached the age limit of 65 last Jan. 17. The funeral services will be next Monday in St. Paul's cathedral, and his body will be buried there.

BURGLAR ALARM TO BE INSTALLED IN COUNTY TREASURY

A burglar alarm will be installed in the county treasurer's office in the near future, as "another step toward the most complete possible protection of the county's money."

The board of supervisors yesterday authorized County Purchasing Agent Dr. F. W. Slabaugh to secure bids on installation of the alarm system. Great savings in the insurance rates for the treasurer's office will be made possible through the new alarm, County Treasurer T. E. Stephenson said.

The system installed will cost in the neighborhood of $1200, and through the reductions in the insurance rate it will pay for itself within three years, he said.

T. B. SOCIETY WORK TOLD

Clinics conducted by the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association served 40 per cent more people in 1935 than they did in 1934, it was revealed today in a report by the association. In the former year the registration was 238, while for last year it was 335.

This report was presented to the board of directors of the association at its meeting Monday in the association offices, First National Bank building.

Of the 335 persons examined last year, 193 were adults and 142 were children. New patients accounted for 235 of the examinations, while 100 old patients were re-checked. A diagnosis of pulmonary tuberculosis was made in 128 cases. Of this latter number, 16 minimal cases were found, two moderately advanced cases, 12 far advanced cases and 98 cases of childhood type tuberculosis, healed childhood and healed adult type tuberculosis were discovered. A negative diagnosis was made in the remaining 207 patients.

The report explained that "these clinics are for people of limited means, though not indigent, who cannot afford specialized medical and laboratory services. The examinations include tuberculin test, sputum examination, x-ray and physical examination by a chest specialist."

"The association is desirous of cooperating more fully with a greater number of physicians in Orange county by helping them to make diagnoses in doubtful and suspicious cases, eligible for the clinic. Physicians referring patients to these clinics will be praised of the findings, and in every instance the patient will be returned to the referring physician."

CONDON WILL REACH N. Y. IN WEEK

TRENTON, N. J., March 11. (AP) Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafsie" of the Lindbergh kidnap ransom negotiations, homeward bound today from a vacation in Panama, was heading into a probability he will be subjected to a renewed questioning about the case.

William S. Conklin, press aide to Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, said an arrangement probably will be made with police to question Condon shortly after he ends his voyage. He is due to arrive in New York in about a week on the S. S. Santa Inez, which left Cristobal, C. Z., last night.

Still Wait Answers
Condon's departure was barely 48 hours before the time limit in which the governor has said he would be able to reprieve Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted of the kidnap-death of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's first son. Hauptmann is under sentence to die the week of March 30.

Dr. Condon left for the tropics a week before Governor Hoffman reprieved Hauptmann last Jan. 16. Conklin said the governor still intended to seek answers to questions he submitted to the state police last Jan. 26 concerning what he termed "unsolved phases" of the crime.

Send Invitations
The questions included whether Condon was believed when he said at various times that he was "convinced" more than one person was involved in the kidnaping, and why Condon was not called upon to explain an offer of $250,000 he said was made to him to change his testimony he gave at Hauptmann's Flemington trial.

Col. Mark O. Kimberling, warden of the New Jersey prison, will send out his invitations to the execution about March 21. Hauptmann will go to the chair probably on March 31 or April 3. Basil Bruno, Republican assemblyman, said he will seek passage tonight of a resolution to investigate the state motor vehicle department, which Governor Hoffman once headed, and which Bruno said he had turned into "a detective agency" in pushing his Hauptmann inquiry.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women

Do you think that parents should be present at their children's weddings?

Mrs. Lena G. Hewitt: It's a very nice, time-honored custom. It adds to the solemnity of the occasion. In a case where the mother couldn't be present if the couple went away to be married, it would seem better they stay at home. In some cases, though, it would make no difference either way.

Mrs. George H. Sullivan: I think it would be terrible if they weren't present. It depends on whether the parents approve of the wedding; if they do, they should be present. It adds to the impressiveness of the wedding ceremony, I'd say.

SPANISH WAR GROUP ENJOYS DANCE, CARD PARTY IN K. C. HALL

Members of camps and auxiliaries, United Spanish War Veterans, gathered at the K. of C. hall last evening for a free dance and card party given by Calumet camp and auxiliary. Visitors came from Los Angeles, Whittier, Long Beach, Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange, and Pomona. A six-piece, W. P. A. orchestra under the direction of George Foy, played.

Commander James A. Randell took charge of the dancing in the large hall, President Hazel Hall had supervision over the card games in the smaller hall and Historian Marriott C. Cooper presided over the refreshment booth.

Before the festivities commenced, a delegation from the local Veterans of Foreign Wars, headed by Commander Glenn Hendrickson, came to the hall for a consultation with the Spanish War Veterans and invited them to attend a luncheon to honor National Commander-in-Chief, James E. Van Zandt, who is to stop here March 24, on his way to San Diego.

Invitations were read from Long Beach camp and William McKinley camp, both of Long Beach, to a bazaar and entertainment and a free dinner and amateur show, tonight and Saturday night.

Comrade Ray Schofield, representing Los Angeles camp, gave some interesting data concerning Spanish-American War. The number of men engaged, he said, were 158 thousand; the losses from all causes, 4.3 per cent as compared with less than 1 per cent in the Civil and World War; the cost of those three wars were: World War, $30,800,000,000; Civil War, $8,500,000,000; Spanish-American War, $1,600,000,000, with property acquired valued at $8,000,000,000, the latter war and with none in the Civil and World Wars. He further stated that he had these statistics directly from Washington and they showed also that while the average weight of soldiers at the time of discharge showed for those of the World War a net gain of 12 pounds each and those of the Civil War showed a 9 pound gain, the Spanish-American soldiers showed a net loss of 28 pounds each, 61 per cent saw foreign service as compared with 46 per cent in the World War. 73 per cent of the Spanish War veterans were the sons of Veterans of the Civil War and 42 per cent of them saw service in the World War.

The next dance and card party will be March 17, which will also be the night of the next pot-luck dinner.

NEW STATE CODE IS HARDER ON 'HIT AND RUN' DRIVER

COURT GIVEN LEEWAY ON OFFENSES

Violators Have Small Chance of Escaping Punishment Now

In honor of milady, Packard is setting aside a week to pay tribute to women the country over. V. R. Byrne, Packard dealer in Santa Ana, announces that March 16 to 21, inclusive, will be the dates set aside for "Ladies Week." To the women that visit the Byrne Motor company there is more than one surprise to greet them, according to Mr. Byrne.

"They look just as good under the helmet as they do on top," said Joe Finley, salesman for the Willys 77 car, referring to one of the automobiles he has turned on its side, showing all the working parts of the car. "People don't realize how strongly constructed these cars are until they look under them, and that is why we have this car doing the flip-flop, which shows the durability of its construction," said Mr. Finley.

"Robert W. Babson says that we are entering an area of prosperity never before experienced, but based upon a solid and firm foundation," said O. H. Egge of the Egge company, at West Fifth and Ross street.

"I believe the old gentleman knows what he is talking about," continued Mr. Egge, "because things are certainly looking up around this place, and if things break with us, as we think they will, in the next week why we will certainly have plenty to tell you to fill your entire 'Otto Rowe' column."

Capt. Bob Ward, Hollywood's premier stunt man who thrilled so many in such noted picture as "Hell's Angels," "Dawn Patrol" and "Wings," is billed for Santa Ana next Saturday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

"It'll be one hour of thrills and spills for the people of Santa Ana," said Ben J. MacMullen, Orange county distributor for Chevrolet pleasure cars and trucks, who is bringing Captain Bob and his thrills here Saturday. Watch for further announcements.

The new Philco and Delco car radios for 1936 had their initial showing here recently at a preview staged for approximately 100 dealers by the United Automotive service, Orange county distributors for both lines. The preview was held in the show rooms of the distributing agency.

The showing was opened by A. J. Tobey, general manager for United Automotive service, who welcomed the dealers and introduced L. M. Forney, president of the distributing agency, C. K. Springer, sales manager, introduced the display of 1936 Philco car radios and a new Delco product known as "The Little Joe" motor, a portable lighting plant for use in house trailers and boats.

Mr. Springer went into detail relative to the Philco radio, giving new prices, outlining the advertising campaign for the year and pointing out sales features of the product.

Dave Ferguson, sales manager and M. R. Richards, engineer from the Delco factory presented that line of car radios. Mr. Tobey closed the meeting with a talk on the growth of the car radio industry and painted a picture of future advancement during the new year.

The United States Rubber Products, Inc., has just introduced the general public an automobile tire which, it is claimed, brings a car to a full stop in two-thirds the distance required by the ordinary anti-skid tire, according to word received this week by Jerry Hall, Santa Ana distributor, for the organization.

"The feature of the new tire which establishes it as the company's greatest contribution to motoring safety is its embodiment of a new anti-skid principle based on the use of narrow, flexible ribs which are de-skidded," said Mr. Hall.

"Hit and runner." That genteel term is applied to the cowardly or panicky auto driver who tries to escape from the scene of an accident in which he is involved.

Efforts to punish adequately hit-and-run drivers on felony complaints have met with difficulties in the past because juries have been reluctant to convict due to the heavy penalties demanded by law under the felony charge. Now the "hit and runner" has less chance to escape punishment since the last legislature revised the code to classify the hit and run violation as a "public offense," giving courts more leeway in sentencing the guilty.

Lesser Punishment
While the same maximum penalties as for the felony charge are retained, five years in state's prison or one year in county jail, or $5000 fine, or both fine and imprisonment in hit-and-run cases involving death or personal injury, lesser punishment may be invoked under the new charge where circumstances warrant it.

In addition the law required the motor vehicle department to revoke licenses of "hit and runners" convicted in injury or death cases. A license revoked cannot be renewed until expiration of one year after revocation and until the person whose license was so revoked gives proof of ability to respond to damages.

Misdemeanor Cases
Hit-and-run accidents involving property damage only are classified as misdemeanor cases. Maximum sentence has been reduced from one year to six months, or a fine of $500 or both. Under such convictions the department of motor vehicles may suspend the operator's license for a period not to exceed six months.

The purpose of these revisions is to make the penalty fit the offense and to secure convictions of those responsible. These revisions of the law are emphasized in the following statement from the Automobile Club of Southern California legal department:

"By defining a 'hit and run' charge as a public offense instead of a felony the legislature has in effect made it possible to deal with each case in accordance with the particular circumstances.

Many Acquittals
"Formerly the offense was a felony if it involved any personal injury, no matter how slight. The severity of a possible state's prison sentence despite extenuating circumstances has caused juries to acquit in many cases and offenders have been let off entirely without punishment. This has naturally tended to weaken enforcement of the law. This condition the amended law is designed to overcome."

It is pointed out that the law requires a driver involved in an accident to stop and identify himself and give assistance to any injured. He is required to make a report within 24 hours to the sheriff or highway patrol, or to the police department if in a city, of any accident involving death or personal injury. If he collides with an unattended vehicle he must try to locate the driver or owner and if unable to do so must leave written notice of his name and address in a conspicuous place on the vehicle struck.

WHITE CANES SIGN FOR DRIVER TO STOP

Motorists are warned to come to an immediate stop when they approach a person carrying a white cane to denote blindness.

Failure to observe this provision of California's vehicle code makes an offender liable to arrest and subject to punishment for a misdemeanor.

Little Brown Jug Object of J. C. Stag

Andrew's gym will be the scene next Monday night of the third annual Buccaneers Inter-club stag, an athletic meet sponsored by the Buccaneers service club to determine the winner of their famed "Little Brown Jug."

With 10 events scheduled, Bob Bradley, chairman for the event reports that more than 100 entrants are expected. The stag, held to determine athletic supremacy among the school's service club will have listed on the bill of fare members from four men's groups—the Buccaneers, Bachelors, Los Gauchos and Junior Lions.

The events will be boxing, wrestling, basketball throw for accuracy, baseball throw for accuracy, sack race, chinling, rope climbing, balloon breaking, and a tug-of-war. Clubs will be invited to one entrant in each of the events except the tug-of-war, in which the number from the smallest club in attendance will be allowed to compete.

Left turn signals often look like anything from a stop signal to waving at the boy friend, but three Santa Ana drivers today made left turn signals that looked like left turn signals. It happened at Third and Main streets.

Here are the license numbers of their cars:

7N 1630, PCH 7230 and 8X 2262.

Drivers of these cars each won five gallons of gasoline in The Journal's traffic safety contest. All they have to do to get their awards is to bring their cars to The Journal office and identify themselves before 6 p. m. tomorrow. They will receive orders on a local service station for their gasoline.

Each day the contest editor watches for observance of a different traffic regulation. The contest is being staged to keep before the public the necessity of careful driving to avoid accidents. Tomorrow's maneuver will be the properly executed stop signal.

You may win one of the prizes. Watch The Journal daily for your license number and those of your friends.

The last winner to claim his gasoline award yesterday was Al Fernandez, 1217 South Van Ness street.

The highest vote drawn by a Democrat was three, given to Henry M. Moffett, a municipal court clerk. Like most of the other Democrats, Moffett is pledged to President Roosevelt.

CRASH CAUSE OFTEN LAID TO FUMES

Gas intoxication is a traffic accident factor that calls for special watchfulness.

Dr. Andrew H. Ryan, whose widely published auto fatigue studies mark him as leading authority in that field, is authority for this.

Dr. Ryan says traffic mishaps due to gas are numerous on days of low temperatures, when the windows of many cars are kept closed to keep the occupants warm. Especially when the cars involved happen to be five or six or more years old, equipped with old-fashioned wooden floors and cowl boards, carbon monoxide issuing from leaky exhaust connections is likely to seep into the car interior.

"Carbon monoxide is an insidious poison," explains Dr. Ryan; "it does not announce its approach or presence through sight or smell. Yet, taken into the lungs in small quantities it makes the driver feel drowsy, dulls his perception, and in not a few cases, causes him to go to sleep long enough for a serious accident to happen."

Dr. Ryan also makes the point that while the dangers of gas fatigue are practically eliminated in the new cars, they are unpleasantly real in many of the older models.

GREAT GAIN IN FORD SALES

Revealing that more motorists bought Ford V-8s in 1935 than any other car, official figures of the Automotive Daily News, trade paper of the automobile industry, show that sales of Ford V-8 units in the United States totaled 1,065,002 as compared with 677,179 units in 1934, representing an astonishing gain of 57.2 per cent.

V-8 sales in the United States were approximately 31.1 per cent of sales by the entire motor car industry, giving Ford a wide lead for the year.

Correspondingly, the world record of Ford V-8 unit sales showed a large increase. In 1935 world sales totaled 1,311,927 units, a gain of 51.6 per cent or 416,826 units over 1934's production number, 865,101.

Development of Brakes Is Traced by Santa Anan

By GARRY GAROWAY

Of the Truck Department of L. D. Coffing Co., Distributors of Dodge Trucks for Orange County

The development of brakes on automotive equipment has been parallel with the increase in speed and loads carried by trucks and automobiles. As engineers developed motors with faster acceleration and longer sustained speeds, the necessity for better, more efficient brakes followed.

This was met with four wheel brakes by the engineers. When they were first introduced their startling performance created a sharp division in the engineering fraternity as to their safety and practicability. Several automobile manufacturers went to great expense in warning the public against the danger of swerving and overturning, and claimed that brakes on front wheels were not practical, and against all good engineering. Time and experience have proven them wrong, for who would buy an automobile today without four wheel brakes?

The use of four wheel brakes also created a very decided division in the ranks of engineers on the question of the type of application of power to the brake—mechanical or hydraulic? The battle has been raging for several years and has proven the basis of many very bitter sales arguments and advertising campaigns.

The hydraulic principle under the test of actual experience and use has proven far superior, and the general opinion is that the 1936 production will find hydraulic four-wheel brake equipment on 80 per cent of all cars and trucks manufactured.

As allowable loads were standardized for trucks, and their speeds limited and regulated according to size of truck and load, so has the question of ability of brakes been set. In addition to four wheel brakes, many truck manufacturers install booster, or helper brakes to further increase braking efficiency. On many of the large freight and passenger lines, air brakes are necessary to comply with the requirements of the law governing the ability of brakes.

We but have to note the daily mounting toll of human lives to realize the necessity of perfect brakes, and also the crying need of keeping brakes always up to the requirements as set down by our traffic laws as follows:

Miles per Hour	Stopping Distance
10	9.3 feet
15	20.8 feet
20	37.0 feet
25	58.0 feet
30	83.3 feet
35	113.0 feet
40	148.0 feet
45	188.0 feet

BING CROSBY INSISTS ON BEAUTIFUL BUT ECONOMICAL CAR

Says big, new, Money-Saving Dodge wins on both counts

MR. CROSBY could well afford to purchase even the most expensive cars. Yet read what he says about his new Dodge: "Am I enthusiastic about my new Dodge? Well, just show me another car that's so beautiful to look at and so economical to drive!"

Thank you, Mr. Crosby! You are only one of the thousands of buyers who, although they could afford a higher priced car, were won by the amazing combination of beauty and economy Dodge offered them. They say that this big car, which is hailed by fashion authorities as the most beautiful car Dodge ever built, is giving them extraordinary gas mileage and remarkable oil economy.

Drive this new Dodge today! See how much more it gives you besides beauty and economy! And remember, Dodge—at new, low prices (only $640 and up, list prices a factory, Detroit)—now costs only a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars!

Marian Martin Wrap-Around Frock Caters to All Women

PATTERN 9744

There's more than one good reason for wrap-around frocks being so popular this season. Their lines are kind to larger figures which require size 40-42, yet equally flattering when a 14 dons one for all-day wear. True to type, pattern 9744 is easily made, opens flat for ironing, and is, all in all, a grand "uniform" for stay-at-home, or woman outside the home with professional duties to perform. On in a jiffy, this Marian Martin frock is secured by buttons, and adjusted to any figure by sash ends. Shoulder tucks assure smooth fit, yet allow for roominess across the bust. You needn't keep to starched white poplin if duties permit you colorful tubbing cottons. Complete, Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.
Pattern 9744 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric. Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.
Be sure to send for our New Spring Pattern Book! You'll be happy as a lark over the way it simplifies your clothes problems! Dozens of easy-to-make, flattering designs—smart both for now and later in the season. News of spring fabrics and accessories. Special slenderizing designs. Clothes budget hints. Patterns for children, misses, adults. Price of book 15 cents. Book and a pattern together, 25 cents.
Send your pattern to The Santa Ana Journal, Pattern Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana.

Opportunity for Progress

ORANGE COUNTY has earned another distinction. This one comes from the national commission of education, which offers to appropriate $20,250 for a public forum project here.

This county and Sacramento were the only two localities approved in California by the commission. Orange county was selected by Dr. J. W. Studebaker, federal commissioner, after a careful survey which recognized the county's unusual attainments in the educational field and its outstanding school leaders.

The forum would offer a series of lectures on common problems by noted speakers and would encourage public discussion of the topics covered. It would be managed locally, with a local board mapping the programs.

Approval has been given to the forum plan by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the National Educational association, the Chautauqua Institute, the American Library association, the Julius Rosenwald fund, the American Federation of Labor, and the U. S. chamber of commerce.

Decision upon whether to accept the commission's offer is up to school principals of Orange county who meet here tonight. A proper choice on their part may do much to forward the progress of this type of education in Orange county.

Merriam Scratches

PERFORMING another political handspring, Governor Merriam announces that he will stay out of the Republican presidential primary in May. We congratulate him on the decision. In the first place, he didn't stand one chance in a thousand of landing the presidential or vice presidential nomination. And in the second place, he would have merely lost additional prestige by heading a losing ticket.

As for the wisdom of his determination to support Governor Landon, we can't say. We have an idea that Mr. Merriam's decision was influenced more by his pique at the state G. O. P. organization than by his opinion of Mr. Landon's ability. It is no secret that Governor Frank is badly hurt at the way he has been ignored by the organization's harmony committee. And that he knows only too well that he was supported in the 1934 gubernatorial race simply because he was considered a lesser evil than Upton Sinclair. Hence his revolt against the untried delegation program as desired by Mr. Hoover.

We are glad Governor Merriam chooses not to run. We hope that from now on he devotes more attention toward administering an economical, efficient state government than to chasing political will-o-the-wisps.

War's Unforeseen Fruits

WILL another World War bring anything new and unforeseen to this battered old planet? Wars have a way of producing the most surprising developments. Take the 1914-1918 struggle, for instance. Perhaps the most striking result was the organization of the League of Nations. Did anybody forecast that?

And in a national way, there was the revolution in Russia. The Soviets are still experimenting with an extreme form of socialism. Let's hope that the venture is confined to their own land until a final conclusion is reached.

In a military way, the late war brought about the development of tanks, poison gas, and the use of the airplane on a much greater scale. It also produced an unprecedented form of trench fighting.

Under the excitement and stress of war, man's inventive abilities are stimulated. Who knows what another war will bring? Perhaps a machine for destroying civilization. Perhaps an effective device for perpetuating international peace.

Delinquent Tax Savings

PROPERTY owners who owe delinquent county taxes will save themselves a bit of money if they pay up by April 20, 1936. Until that time property may be redeemed without penalties and with payment only of 7 per cent interest from July 1, 1934.

If payment is postponed until after April 20, penalties amounting to 1 per cent a month will be added—bringing redemption costs to between 13 and 25 per cent.

For convenience of those who cannot pay back taxes in full, an installment plan is available. It allows settlement of the bill over a 10-year period. It also must be arranged for before April 20.

County Auditor W. T. Lambert can give full information to all delinquent taxpayers interested in making this savings. It is a chance that should not be passed by.

Just One Effective Tool

CAREFULLY selected advertising, in these times of improved business conditions and development of promotional activities, is the important key to a wider distribution of goods, says Kenneth Collins, advertising executive and vice president of Gimbel Brothers, writing in the current Rotarian magazine.

"Our problems during the past five unhappy years," he says, "have all had to do with distribution, not with production. The essential difficulty has been that of getting our multifarious manufactured articles into the hands of a sufficient number of consumers to keep the wheels of industry humming. I know only one tool for such a distribution goal, and that tool is advertising."

Whimsies

of O. O. McIntyre

A distinguished observer of public reaction to foibles declared at Town Hall that no doo-dad of personal adornment was so provocative as the bang.

The demi-monde of France recognized this for years. So much so, the bang is the professional badge of the grisette.

In America, of course, the bang does not suffer from such a stigma. But that it has distinguished those who affect it is certain. A Helen Morgan without her wavy tassel is unthinkable. And this applies in similar fashion to Irene Bordoni.

Katharine Hepburn and Miriam Hopkins touched off a bang craze not so long ago so devastating that in one of the largest 5 and 10 cent stores there was not a sales girl without a bang. Too, Claudette Colbert and Loretta Young added to the furore.

More than his statesmanship, people refer to Elihu Root's bang. And there is no denying the one affected by Charlie Falls, the artist, bestows a sort of Japanese charm. The most pronounced of the male bangs is the glossy, plastered-down comicality of Jimmy Savo.

Sudden reflection along the Central Park Mall: Who wouldn't want to be a kid again to have a pair of those woolen gloves whereof the fingers are of divers hues?

New York's youngest looking man is Raymond Orteig, owner of the Mellon Cafe Lafayette, where patrons play dominoes over their brandy and whose $25,000 prize inspired the Lindbergh flight. So youthful, indeed, he looks younger than his two sons, Jacques and Stanley, is another veteran restaurateur whose years seem ahead.

Lawrence Tibbett confessed over the radio that he can always clear up the singer's bugaboo, a common cold, by standing on his head for 10 minutes. But it's not a universal panacea. I have a friend who tried it. Not only is his cold no better, but he is laid up with a strained tendon in his shoulder. Napoleon believed in a similar trick, i. e., reclining for a half hour with the legs and body higher than the head. He was even able to throw off a fever in this fashion. There used to be a stereotypical in East Liverpool, Ohio, who carried a buckeye in his pocket to ward off rheumatism. One winter he lost it and came to the newspaper shop in distress. He did not know where to find another. In two days' time he was in bed with muscular rheumatism. Another buckeye, and he was well.

The ghostly Hampshire House on Central Park South, the new retired petticoat lane and promenade for stage and radio folk, continues its depression droop. An oyster-white modernistic miracle of stepping towers, it was near finishing touches when everything went black. Rain and melting snow now leak through its vast interior and nothing is untouched by decay. Only one other deserted spire sheds a thicker gloom, and that is the unfinished structure on West End avenue at 72nd street. Both suggest "hants." Boo!

A winning line in this column followed a seasonal hike to California nine years ago. It read: "Broadway will never take to the cafeteria like Los Angeles." Today the cafeteria predominates in the city's low-priced eating places. Even large hotels, seeing enormous dining rooms empty and patrons flocking to lunchrooms near-by, have installed self-serving niches under different names, and in two instances the intake is larger than that of the hotels. Such important as Jules Bache, Conde Nast and Theodore Dreiser are occasionally cafeteria conscious.

Then we have an overabundance of those Frenchified piano box places with cutely tricked up silver, blood-red or snow-white, hearing such partnerships as Estelle and Leon, Armand and Yvonne, etc. A strolling guitarist or accordionist in velvet blouse and lacy pants plays softly. The food is served slowly from blue flamed pots and pans. Your next table neighbor may be Phillis Merivale, or Helen Hayes. Or other biggies escaping the rabble, dear, dear, in high-priced luxury.

A movie director in Brooklyn working on a short with Ernest Truex sent a hurried call to the Lambs for six bald-headed men. A scout went immediately to the card room and conveyed the message in almost a whisper. Instantly six actors snatched off their toupees.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, March 11.—A score of big business men who are members of the business advisory council went to the White House recently to tell the President what they thought the government should do about various economic and financial problems.

One point on which they laid great stress was the necessity of cutting federal expenditures and balancing the budget.

Roosevelt listened good-naturedly and silently until they had finished. Then, for 30 minutes, he gave them a straight-from-the-shoulder reply that left them gasping.

"Government spending to relieve unemployment," he said, "will continue. It will continue as long as such aid is necessary. You might as well make up your minds to that."

"I know some of you gentlemen are very eager to have me retired to private life. Let me give you a bit of advice."

"If you want to get me out of the White House the first thing you will have to do is to stop chiseling. Stop chiseling on your employees."

"Every time you lengthen hours or lower wages—as I have evidence is being done—you make thousands of votes for me."

"The worker says to himself: 'It was not that way under NRA. The New Deal is for me. It is my friend.' No, gentlemen, chiseling on the hours and wages of workers is not the way to beat me."

"Some of the business moguls admired the President's frankness. Most of them, however, privately expressed resentment at the implication they were 'chiselers.'"

ACTOR ROOSEVELT

Washington and New York soon will see a Roosevelt on the stage singing and dancing in the chorus of a musical show.

The show is the 1936 production of Harvard's Hasty Pudding club. The Roosevelt is the President's son John, Harvard sophomore.

The audience should have no trouble spotting John. Six feet four inches tall, he is the tallest of the 16 in the chorus. Furthermore, he will be dressed as a man.

Eight of the 16 will be dressed as women. John's "female" partner will be George F. Baker, Jr., son of the financier, who is a critic of the President.

In the rehearsals that keep lights burning late on the Harvard campus these nights, John is having a little trouble putting his long legs through the complicated dance routines. When he makes one faux pas, Hasty Pudding's director Bill Holbrook yells, "It's no good, Roosevelt; do it over."

John, like everyone else in the show, goes through the paces four hours nightly during six weeks rehearsal.

When John went out for the show, he faced the competition of about 50 chorus aspirants, but survived first one cut, then another. His voice did more for him than his legs.

Other notables in the show are Marshall Field, Jr., Gaspar G. Bacon, Jr., son of the Massachusetts lieutenant governor; Francis Lee Higginson Wendell; William "Unt II, son of the architect William Morris Hunt, and Ben Welles, son of Sumner Welles, assistant secretary of state.

Welles will do two specialty dances, a rumba and an Apache.

Big Bill, Little Bill—in fact all the Bills in this city and vicinity as well as from other cities—were here last night for the "First Night Seneca" in the Elks fine new temple on Sycamore street. The pretty lodge home was warmed, dedicated, and warmed some more, over 300 members of the antlered herd being present.

While their husbands were enjoying high jinks at the new home of the Elks last night, 16 ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. M. A. Yarnell in the Richmond. The Elks colors of purple and white were used, with two large purple bells suspended from the ceiling. After dinner the ladies enjoyed bridge whist, Mrs. Frank Remberg and Mrs. W. A. Huff having high and low scores and winning prizes.

A world-wide show for Santa Ana is planned for this fall by the Orange County Poultry association. The matter was discussed at the meeting of the association in the chamber of commerce rooms last night.

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Former federal office holders in Arizona, appointed at the Theodore Roosevelt meeting last night, are said to have decided to ask Roosevelt if he will accept the nomination for the presidency in 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jayne entertained a dozen of their friends last evening at 6:30 o'clock dinner. The decorations were all carried out in green, in honor of St. Patrick. The evening was pleasantly spent with Irish games, stories and jokes.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE:—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Personal Discipline During Lent Offers Breathing Spell

THE Lenten season brings again its message of good-will. For fasting and penitence and self-denial always give rise to thoughtful consideration for one's neighbors. Foregoing of sensual pleasures, inflicting of self-discipline, controlling desires makes for personal and social good. Any relaxing of the grabbing habit, of self seeking and getting should supply the "use that refreshes."

Many millions of faithful observers, those who wish to sweeten the paths of life, gladly consent to moderate self-denial. Other millions pursue their accustomed way, never pausing in their millway round to appraise the scene or to evaluate their own motives and objectives. Like sheep without a shepherd, they run hither and yon, consuming themselves in fruitless quest.

The policy of restraint may well be extended. Not only our appetites and fleshly desires but that unruly member, the tongue, might profitably submit to better control during this period of personal discipline. What genuine nobility could be spread throughout the community of clear thinking preceded tongue wagging.

Some time, perhaps, we shall learn that meanness and hatred and venom always recoil upon those who dispense them. That mercy and justice and kindness are stronger weapons and win more victories than do all the arrows in the bag of malice. That mellowing sunshine is a more potent power than blustering wind and dashing rain.

What Other Editors Say

SUPREME COURT AND ITS FUNCTIONS

(Albuquerque Morning Journal)

In view of the many important decisions rendered within the past two years by the Supreme Court of the United States—decisions which involved highly controversial subjects—there is danger that the functions of the court be lost sight of under the pressure of partial judgment.

The time is opportune, therefore, to heed the message of Mr. Justice Roberts, recently written, in order that deliberately fostered misconceptions on this subject may be squelched. Said Justice Roberts:

"It is sometimes said that the court assumes a power to overrule or control the action of the people's representatives. This is a misconception. The Constitution is the supreme law of the land, ordained and established by the people. All legislation must conform to the principles it lays down. When an act of Congress is appropriately challenged in the courts as not conforming to the Constitutional mandate, the judicial branch of the Government has only one duty, to lay the article of the Constitution which is invoked beside the statute which is challenged and to decide whether the latter squares with the former."

"All the court does or can do is to announce its considered judgment upon the question. This court neither approves nor condemns any legislative policy. Its delicate and difficult office is to ascertain and declare whether the legislation is in accord with or in contravention of the provisions of the Constitution and having done that, its duty ends."

That's the kernel of the nut. The Supreme Court is not prejudiced against any Congress, any administration, or any political theory. It does not determine whether administration policies or Congressional legislation are good or bad.

Confusion should not prevail with respect to the functions, powers or duties of the Supreme Court.

COURT PROTECTION

(The Indianapolis News)

During the last two years the court has come before the public as the protector of the people against the mistakes of the legislature and executive branches. The role was not of its choosing. The New Dealers forced it upon the court. General recognition of this fact is not affected by loose political talk about the court usurping the functions of the other two divisions of government. It has in no instance attempted to influence the course of the executive and legislative branches. It has carefully refrained from giving any opinion of the wisdom of legislation. No warning against the trend of the administration's policy has come from its bench save as it was brought out in the reasoning to support a ruling. Both the executive department and many members of both houses of Congress have tried to advise, even threaten, the court. But their remarks leave the court untouched.

When I asked Ed Cochems if he attended a lecture on fish he registered "no." In Chicago a long time ago a friend persuaded me to invest in fishing tackle, and his experience convinced him that "Ed" Walton was wasting a lot of time.

If these threats about kidnapping babies keep up I would like to turn in a few names myself. I'm having more trouble with "babies" than a lot of other people, and it's about time some of them were being kidnapped. Maybe I could devote more time to this department. But do not get the impression that I'll come through with any ransom. You can have 'em.

George Sullivan phones me at 8 a. m. that he is coming over and arrives at 3:30 in the afternoon. He wanted me to wait for him. What do you think his ideas about a newspaper office are? That it is a rest cure or an old folks' home? Well, George I waited—about 5 minutes.

And then the ranchers came along again to make inquiry about the next rain. I'm in favor of it, but the time of its arrival is as unknown to me as it is to weather prophets.

Most of the lawyers reply, when I ask them, "how's business," with "start something."

After all I did attend the Iowa picnic. My name was on the program on the state list by Curtis Burrow, who claimed "power of attorney." When some of those old corn-fed boys sighted the sign with the legal affix attached, they looked inquiringly at each other and wondered if the old man was slipping, or a guardian had been appointed. And it never occurred to Curtis to hang around and explain. He just registered and retired.

Met a bride, "whister" who came in for sympathy. His score card registered 890. You can't imagine how much better I felt when he showed me that record.

The city, having decided it would not buy the 20-acre park which it needed to release the acreage for private purchase. If I had a million, or took in as much money as was spent at the Santa Anita races, I would buy that acreage and give it to the city—that is if the city council would take it. I've longed for a retreat other than what Anaheim affords. But if Anaheim thinks of those recreations ahead of Santa Ana, well, it's only about eight miles over there, and a steak bake or picnic lunch will be as palatable at Anaheim as any other place where the facilities are equal.

With F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Jimmy Livesey looked up from his reading with a satisfied smile, and informed a friend that he had just completed an article written by Babson who made the prediction that prosperity was returning. Later on additional research disclosed that the prediction was made in 1932.

Dan Mulholland introduces me to a bevy of office clerks. The government lost no time as the introduction took place during the lunch hour. Information volunteered so as to inform Washington authorities Dan's force did not chisel any time. As for myself I'm invulnerable, and also impossible from the administration point of view.

Looked like an item so I waited for it. Patrolman Ray Hartley walks right out into the traffic. So I figure it won't be long now. But they didn't hit him. So, says I, me for a uniform.

Too many of my friends are falling victims of sickness. They got to cut it out. Soon he so many of them on the invalid list I won't have time to collect enough material for this column. Can't take time out to visit all of 'em. So I'm for better health and more of it. They've got Jim McCain out to Victorville, Clyde Walker up to Loma Linda, Wylie Griffith and Ralph Mosher at home, Tad Dunning out on East Fourth, St. Flour slowed down, Fleetwood Bell indisposed, E. S. Gilbert on the sick list, and I don't feel so well myself.

Bunch of friends planning for a hike to Saddle Back. Extend me an invitation. They figured it out that I would be the last man up. They were right. I won't even start.

The old patron saint spirit took possession of Fred Fuller and expressed itself in mints—the saccharine variety. Just to recall the St. Patrick day traditions Fred made up a few shamrocks, and there are a few of the elongated, cylindrical reptiles in the display which appears in one of the confectionery stores. Oh, well, you can wait until March 17, and make your own selections.

When I asked Ed Cochems if he attended a lecture on fish he registered "no." In Chicago a long time ago a friend persuaded me to invest in fishing tackle, and his experience convinced him that "Ed" Walton was wasting a lot of time.

Remarkable Remarks

Great as the power of the government is, I am afraid we can't control the specialists and it would do no good to give him advice. British Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin.

It used to be California or bust. Now California is trying to bust the hobo—Jeff Davis, "King of the Hoboes."

Only tyrants think of loyalty oaths. Under a Mussolini or a Hitler you could understand a law like this.—Charles Hendley, educator.

In my mind I have a hazy idea about things I want to do.—Mrs. Mary P. Long, U. S. senator, Louisiana.
